Hi!

I am Purva, from Mumbai. I was a part of the Linguistics Department from 2018-2020 pursuing my full-time M.A. course. Without even thinking twice, I can definitely say that these two years were the best academic years of my life. If one is passionate about Linguistics, this is THE place to be.

Be sure to meet very knowledgeable, friendly, and most importantly, super liberal teachers here. All the semesters are planned very well covering most of the fields in contemporary linguistics. The department also arranges some wonderful workshops and seminars that truly benefit students. At times, the coursework does get a bit overwhelming, so, regularity and consistency are very important. The teachers often surprise you by saying things like, “Question your teacher and question whatever is being taught”, “Try to prove theories wrong”, “Have a scientific temper” and such similar utterances that are absolutely unheard of in our educational system.

All in all it’s a fun place to be and there’s not a single day that goes dull or unproductive. One can be sure to come out as a more evolved person after studying here.
